LOCAL NEWS.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Harris, Mrs. Mary Tarbutton and daughter Miss Sadie and Miss Jennie Adams of Sandersville, Ga., who have been spending two weeks pleasantly at The Terrace, return home on Monday.

Miss Maidee Griffin, who has given Mrs. A. E. Posey very efficient service during this season, returned to her home in Atlanta today. Miss Griffin leaves many sincere friends who look forward to her return again next season.

The many friends of Mr. Charlie Hefner are sympathizing with him in his extreme illness, and are trusting that his pleasant face will soon be seen again on the streets.

The singing class of the (Masonic) Oxford Orphan asylum will visit Hendersonville August 30. These deserving young people always give a fine entertainment, and are worthy of an unselfish patronage.

Mr. G. W. Connell, of Spencer, N. C., arrived to join his family for a few days in Hendersonville, who are occupying their new summer home.

To put it briefly wasting no superfluous words, and taking no more of the busy reader's time than is essential to a thorough grasping and digesting of the idea, so to speak, it may be whispered, but for goodness sake, Susan, don't say that we told you, that Hendersonville has a bigger crowd than most all the other mountain resorts in this section put together.

Mr. J. G. Sadler, of Spartanburg, formally with S. E. True and company, has arrived and will be with Mr. G. M. Glazener until the latter's new branch store is opened in Brevard.

(From Monday's Daily.)

The following guests are staying at Valley View Farm: Mr. Mrs. Charles Burn and daughter, Mobile; Mr. and Mrs. Saves, Charleston; Miss Aughtmore, Charleston; Mrs. Roper, Laurens, S. C.; Miss Nanney Hudgins, Laurens, S. C.; Miss Lillian Glenn, Newberry, S. C.; Miss Baneti Frink, Lake City, Fla.; Miss Ethel and Clara Bowers, Newberry, S. C.

Miss Annie Griffin returned to her home in Atlanta Saturday after a visit of several days in the city, where she was the guest of Mrs. A. E. Posey.

Dr. and Mrs. Feagan and four sons, of Spartanburg, are stopping at the Oaks.

Mr. E. M. Thompson, of Columbia, attorney of the Southern Railway, is stopping at the Esmeralda.

Rev. J. C. Roper, of Greenwood, S. C., has joined his wife at the Orchards.

Miss Blanche McPherson, of Lebanon, Va., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Clyde Mears.

Mr. S. W. Lucas, of Charleston, is a late arrival at the Wheeler.

The Misses Smith of Augusta, spent Friday night at the Waverly en route to Bat Cave.

Mrs. William Shannon and family of Camden, S. C., is expected at the Waverly early this week.

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Long and son of Newton, N. C., are expected today to spend the week with Mrs. Vance Norwood on 4th avenue.

If you want to, see a real live place see Main street in Hendersonville on any Saturday night.

No sir, we are sorry, but we really do not know of any town on the face of the globe where the girls are quite as pretty as in Hendersonville.

When you stop to think that there is not an empty store in the town of Hendersonville and that there is really a waiting list for the stores now being completed you must admit that there is something doing here.

All that Hendersonville needs to assume the airs of the really metropolitan place is street car lines, and from present indication it is not going to be very long before she has that, too

It is a delight and a mental refreshment to pass that delightful garden of Mrs. M. C. Toms on north Main street.

Whose the present owner or the present owners of the new federal building site? The Daily Herald, being very anxious to create trouble, hereby offers a prize, a valuable prize, for the first correct guess.

Mr. J. A. Chapman, president of the Inman Cotton Mills of Spartanburg, is at Kanuga Lake for the season. Mr. Chapman's family, with the exception of Miss Laura, who is spending the summer in Europe, is with him, and will remain at the Lake for the season. Mr. Chapman is entirely charmed with the country around Hendersonville, with which, by means of his big touring car he is getting thoroughly acquainted.

Mr. R. L. Black, of Jacksonville, Mr. H. G. Spalding, Atlanta and Mr. M. F. Gravely of Virginia are late arrivals who will spend some time at the Majestic.

Real estate was soaring uncomfortably high on Main street today. A downpour of dampness is the only remedy to check the ascending values.

The public schools of the county begin today. Teachers have been secured for a majority of the schools, and it is hoped that the other schools may be supplied at an early date.

There will be a lawn party given tomorrow at Rev. G. W. Belk's at Capt. Miller's home at Rugby. This party will be given by the Presbyterian congregation, the proceeds will be for the benefit of the new Presbyterian church at Rugby. Refreshments will be served, to which all are invited, the occasion beginning at 5 o'clock Tuesday.

Messrs. James H. Homles and son, Roberson Paul and William Boaz, of Charleston, after spending several days in the city have gone on a camping party around Tuxedo for several days.

Cora Minton and William Minton, her husband of two months, colored, hailed before Squire Hood today charged with non-support. William paid the cost of $5.25 and judgment was suspended on the promise that he would deliver to Cora two dollars each week.

TWENTY THOUSAND BUSHEL ELS OF WHEAT IN HENDERSON THIS FALL.

Mr. King Morris, of the First National Bank Will be Pleased to Know That There is Another Leak Being Stopped.

Twenty thousand bushels of wheat will be harvested in Henderson county this Fall.

This will be discouraging news to the chronic pessimist who sees nothing bright ahead for his home county.

It will be the largest wheat crop of the county in many, many years, and with the excellent prospects for a great corn crop, and with all the prize hogs yet to hear from, the average farmer is entitled to wear a large and pleasant smile—one of the kind that sticks.

The day is undoubtedly at hand, it may ever now be dawning, when the farmers of Henderson county will feed not only themselves but the people of Hendersonville as well, and then the tremendous drain on the county for feed stuffs will decrease, and the farmers of this county may be able to buy a few buzz buggies themselves instead of their western brothers who have been shipping their products into Hendersonville to the tune of about half a million dollars each year.

This vast sum, without counting the hundred dollars or more per day for freight, has been utterly lost to this community. Had the farmers of the county been able to supply the grain and provisions, the money would have remained here in Hendersonville banks and have been used over and over again in the legitimate channels of trade.

The prosperity of the whole community is dependent upon the prosperity of the farmer, and unless something happens the Henderson county farmer, awake to the possibilities of his opportunities, will cease to fatten the bank accounts of western farmers but will pay more attention to increasing the size of his own.

Gudger Ready For Fray.

Gazette-News.

J. M. Gudger, jr., the democratic nominee for congress from the Tenth congressional district, is going to begin his campaign in the district whether Congressman John G. Grant, the republican nominee, accepts his challenge for joint debate or not. Mr. Gudger is still awaiting a reply to his challenge which he directed to Mr. Grant some time ago. Inquiry at republican headquarters relative to a forthcoming answer is that Mr. Grant is now out in the district and that communication with him has not been had in some time.

Mr. Gudger says that he is going to visit every precinct in the district. The campaign will be opened at Rutherfordton at a meeting billed for 11 o'clock August 1. Mr. Gudger's schedule further calls for speeches at Cliffside August 2 at 8:15 p. m.; at Caroleen the night of August 3 and at Forest City the night of August 4. He says that he will announce other dates as the campaign progresses.

S. K. Breeling & Co. Have Sold. The feedstore of S. K. Breeling & Co., was sold Thursday by the members composing this firm to Byers Brothers, who will take over the business and run a feed store as heretofore. The Byers Brothers are Henderson county men.

Mr. Breeling originally came here from Kentucky eight years ago and has been engaged in business during this time. When asked if he intended to engage in other business he said, "No, I haven't made any plans."

Cuts the Price and Sells the Goods

The city authorities are determined that the city shall be kept clean, and Tom Israel and his street cleaning force were much in evidence on Saturday. The merchants of the town are more to blame for the untidy appearance of Main street than any other one class. To use that magnificent street as a dumping ground for the refuse of their stores is almost too absurd to believe. Help keep the city clean.

Mr. M. G. Hudgins, of Bat Cave, was in town Friday, and said to a Daily Herald man: "There is going to be the largest potato crop in our section for many years past. The cabbage crop will be about one-half, and as for the corn, why, it's going to be the very best in our section that has ever been harvested. Yes, sir, the crops look pretty good to us out there."

If Miss Stella Evans Daniel, who left her card case at Lott's shoe store, will call at that place she will recover the case, which she left there. and were, fortunately, none the worse for their experience.

Officer Will Garren is confined to his room. Endeavoring to move a heavy motor cycle, Friday, he strained certain muscles so severely as to incapacitate him for several days, at least.
